Sign install from A - Z

Northstar's Coverage Zone

Recently there has been a lot of questions on what our coverage zone is. We typically cover a 50 mile radius of our office. This includes parts of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware. If you would like a more detailed list please contact the office and they will be able to send you one.

Northstar is a licensed sign installer. We install signs throughout our coverage zone, including Philadelphia, New Jersey, Delaware and the local malls. When we do an install we can cover everything involved, starting with permits ending with the install itself.

Northstar installs signs of all different varieties, including channel letters, cabinet signs, vinyl, panaflex and even panels.

When applying for a permit we have a permit coordinator that works directly with the township. They will fill out the application, and assist with any questions the township has on the sign. The typical time it takes to get a permit back from the township is about 4 weeks. Most towns have up to 30 business days to review the permit and approve or send feedback.

Once the building is built, Northstar will then perform a survey of where the sign will be placed. This includes measurements the sign company needs to fabricate the sign, how we are going to fasten the sign and even making sure we have color swatches of existing materials.

When the survey is complete and the permit is approved, we then let the fun begin and install the sign.

After the sign is installed we then contact the township or third party to get our inspections. When the inspection is complete we then call the job finished.

Back to school can be an exciting and scary time. Please keep our children and future safe by being observant. Try to remember where the school bus stops are and the crossing areas.

Another way we can watch out for our children is to report suspicious activity. If you see something that doesn't belong please tell the authorities.
